Day 2: Panama City Tour (Monday not possible)

The gorgeous scenery of skyscrapers, noble mansions and green hills will inspire you. First you will see Panama Viejo from the 16th century. Afterwards you will go along to the old town of Casco Antiguo, where you will find the oldest institutions and buildings of the modern city; locally the district is called Casco Viejo or Casco Antiguo. On a walking tour you will see many unique colonial buildings, some still largely in their original state and others lovingly and colorfully restored. The historic district is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and has become the country's center for art, design and cultural revival in recent years. Many new bars, rooftop terraces, restaurants and hotels have opened here. The drive then takes you to the Causeway, from where you have a magnificent view of the Panama City skyline. Then it's off to the Miraflores Locks of the Panama Canal. Here you will get a first insight into the functioning and dimensions of the famous Panama Canal. The terrace offers a unique view of the locks and the ships. The Panama Canal is one of the most important waterways in the world. In the associated museum you will learn a lot of interesting facts about the canal.

*Overnight stay: Hotel Central , Premium room

Day 7: Boca Chica - Boquete

The morning is at leisure. At lunchtime, 1¼-hour transfer to the small mountain village of Boquete, which lies at 1200 m and has a spring-like climate. First discover the village of Boquete before a short hiking tour in the beautiful surroundings of Boquete awaits you.

*Overnight stay: Hotel Panamonte Inn , Terrace room

Included meals today: Breakfast

Day 8: Boquete / El Pianista or Pipeline Trail

In the morning you will be picked up by our local guide for an approx. 4-hour hike. During the hike you will explore the evergreen plateaus around Boquete. The temperate spring-like climate ensures a year-round fertile and colourful landscape, which is known for its richness of species beyond the country's borders. Especially for bird lovers, this region is a pure paradise. But it is also home to many amphibian and mammal species, including coatis, sloths and various species of monkeys. In addition, there is a great wealth of wild orchids and many other exotic plants.

After lunch, we will take you into the world of coffee to visit a coffee plantation. The cultivation, harvesting and processing of the coffee fruit will be explained to you. At the end of the tour there will of course be a taste of the delicious tasting beverage.

At approx. 05.00am arrival at the hotel.

Day 10: Bocas del Toro – Boat trip Red Frog Beach

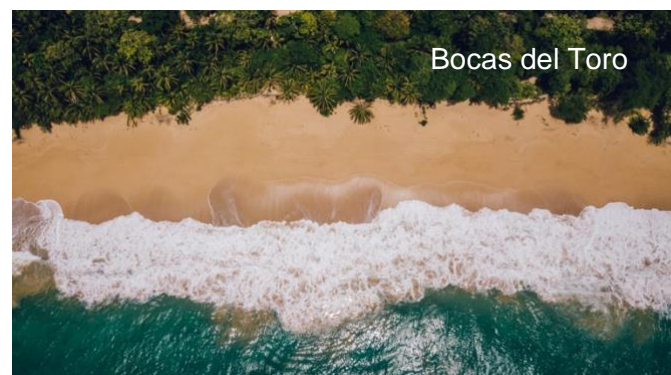

A boat trip awaits you today. First, the boat will take you through smaller sea lanes that wind through the overgrown mangrove forests. Keep an eye out for water birds! Then it's off to Coral Cay, where the sea is calm all year round, making it suitable for snorkellers of all ages. Local restaurants built on stilts over the water offer a variety of seafood (not included). Later, the boat trip continues to Bastimentos Island. The island is overgrown with mangroves all around, and is surrounded by nature and good air. Isla Bastimentos is still mostly jungle, there are no roads or runways. For this reason, the island can only be reached by boat. Not only adventurers or nature freaks will find themselves in Isla Bastimentos, because one of the most famous beaches of Bocas del Toro is located here, the "Red Frog Beach", which got its name from the red poison dart frogs. Within the island there are many paths and trails to explore. However, the most popular activity is to „relax your mind" and listen to the sounds of the sea. In the afternoon you return to the main island.
